Strain Dining Table

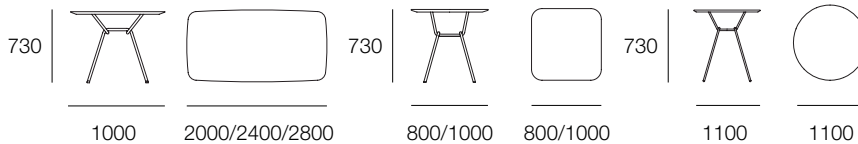

by Simon Morasi Pipercic

With an interweaving steel base, the Strain dining table shares the design characteristic of the lounge, barstools and low tables that comprise the collection.

Suitable for many applications and chair types, the Strain table consists of a Fenix laminate table top with the edge detail in lacquered finish or exposed ply. The steel base is finished to a choice of house powdercoat colours including white, grey/white, black/grey, dark grey and anthracite. For outdoor applications, all six sizes of the Strain dining table are available in a choice of white, grey or black high pressured laminate top and a wide range of ten powdercoat colours for the table base.

The Strain collection also encompasses a lounge chair, barstool including low stool, and a range of coffee and side tables.
