The Nango-19 home office desk provides the functionality you need for any home office set-up, but without the visual clutter that traditional desks feature. This solid timber table features a waterfall edge, an easy to use cable management system and protective feet glides as standard, with the ability to add drawers should you need an all-in-one storage solution.

The desk is made from solid timber, in your choice of Vic Ash or Messmate, in either natural or black stain.

The NannUp shelving accessory may also be combined with the Nango desk, allowing for additional storage and an alternate position for computer monitors.
